When one loses the use of a body part, the mind and body begin adapting. Some possess a unique knack for adaptation and they lead the way for many others. "Heroes of the Slopes" is a compilation of some of the stories and characters within "enabled" skiing. They are all leaders at adaptation who are enjoying their unique rides and unique contributions to the advancement of the sport and to the evolution of the human race. Through technology, anywhere on the mountain, alone or with others, adaptive skiing has come a long way in a very short time and continues bringing out the best in the human spirit.
